Contents

1 Options

1.1 `draft`

Enables the editing commands (section 2.1).

2 Commands

2.1 Editing

When the `draft` mode is enabled (section 1.1), these commands also add an entry to `\listoftodo`.

2.1.1 \todo

2.1.2 \addcite

This command adds a todo reminder to add a citation

2.1.3 \printlistoftodo

This command will print the list of todo if the `draft` option (section 1.1) is enabled, otherwise nothing will be printed.

2.2 Text

2.2.1 \textqt[1]

This command 'single quotes text'

2.2.2 \textqqt[1]

This command "double quotes text"

2.3 Math

2.3.1 \diff[2]

This command adds a differential operator: $\frac{\partial y}{\partial x}$

3 Examples

3.1 Todo List

To output a todolist you can either use \listoftodo (always enabled), or \printlistoftodo (no-op when the `draft` option is enabled.)
